

Reach Women Online

Network Media Brings Together Targeted Lifestyle Channels to Advertisers Seeking the Female Demographic.

Avila Beach, CA - June 1, 2009 - Network Media announces a new resource for on-line advertisers, bringing together a group of lifestyle websites. Network Media features a family of websites to help advertisers target their female demographic. This network of websites delivers audiences within unique segments of the female population to meet the particular needs of our advertisers. Our websites reach people in their individual stages of life and lifestyles, like single and dating, married with kids, and trying to conceive.

Our end users are accessing our websites for relevant information, for research, and for community.

Network Media is a resource for advertisers and media. Our family of websites provides relevant, timely information to our users in a format that targets their individual stages of life. Our conglomerate includes: <http://www.Families.com>, <http://www.eRomance.com>, <http://www.FreeCoupons.com>, and <http://www.SnugglePie.com>.
